

Now you can transfer DICOM studies between locations with a single click.

The screenshot shows the 'eHT HIE Worklist' interface. On the left, there is a list of documents with columns for Date, Name, and Source. A large green circle with the number '1' is placed over the 'eHT HIE Worklist' tab. On the right, there is a list of lab orders with columns for Date, Name, and Source. A large green circle with the number '2' is placed over the 'Transfer to PACS' button.

(1) Click the eHT HIE WORKLIST tab. (2) Then click on the “Transfer to PACS” tab. (3) Next, check the box to the left on the images that need transferred. In the multiples column, ORG refers to the originating source and Copy is the source that has transferred the image.

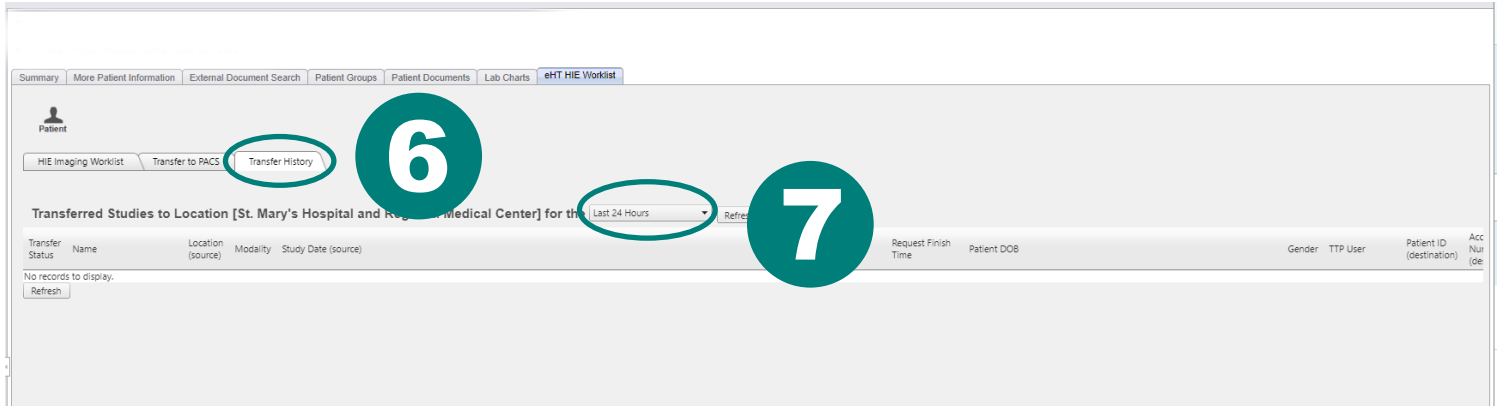

The screenshot shows the 'Transfer Studies' dialog box. It features a table with columns for Status, Multiples, Study Date, Study Description, Modality, and Accession #. A large green circle with the number '3' is placed over the first row's status column. A large green circle with the number '4' is placed over the 'Accession #' column. A large green circle with the number '5' is placed over the 'Transfer Studies' button at the bottom. The dialog also includes a 'Specify new values for the destination PACS' section with fields for MRN and Accession Number.

Images have been selected to the left. The system will automatically ensure that the correct local patient MRN has been inserted into its corresponding DICOM field, so that when it is imported it will appear as a part of the local patient record on the PACS. (4) Accession numbers can also be edited as needed prior to a transfer being initiated. (5) When ready-click on “Transfer Studies”. There is a drop-down to choose the PACS if the source has multiple PACS to transfer to.
